

---

THE SOCIAL, CULTURAL & ETHICAL DIMENSIONS OF “BIG DATA”

March 17, 2014 · New York University School of Law

Production Team

<http://www.datasociety.net/initiatives/2014-0317/>

Convener: danah boyd, Data & Society and Microsoft Research

Steering Committee: Geoffrey Bowker, University of California at Irvine; Kate Crawford, Microsoft Research and MIT; Helen Nissenbaum, New York University

Producers: Ellen Mendlow, Data & Society; Seth Young, Data & Society

Research Team: Alex Rosenblat, Data & Society; Tamara Kneese, New York University

Additional Research Support: Solon Barocas, New York University; Seda Gürses, New York University; Karen Levy, Princeton University; Heather Patterson, New York University; Elana Zeide, New York University; Malte Ziewitze, New York University

Event Coordinator: Sara Smith, Microsoft Research

Design & Photography: Mark Forscher, Data & Society

Event Assistants: Philip Allison; James Dennis; Elizabeth Eakin; Rosa Jurjevics; Jerome Miles

Event Volunteers: Shuang Li, New York University; Ann Sarnak, Yale University; Meng Xu, New York University

Communications: Michelle Tsai & Gina Rodriguez, New York University Law; Moira Vahey, White House Office of Science & Technology Policy; Dove Pedlosky, New York University

AV & Video Production: James Britt, Michael Dean Misslin & Gabriel Rosenstein, New York University Law Webcast; Sonic Foundry

Catering: Ken Panebianco, New York University Law; Katherine Rothwell, Dean & Deluca

Location Coordinator: April Sherwin, New York University Law

Printing: John Hanley, PrintScout; Craig Sheer & Frank Mercado, SheerPrint; Jay Webber, CCS Printing

Additional thanks to: Staff & volunteers of the White House Office of Science & Technology Policy; Hospitality, security & general staff of New York University Law; Ariadna De Luna, Ken Douglas, Anne Jensen, Brooke York & Christina Zappier of Microsoft Research